WEEKLY
WHO KNOWS WHAT TERRIFYING, DARK SECRETS MIGHT REMAIN HIDDEN IN THE PSYCHE OF THE MYSTERIOUS AND ISOLATED DEEP SOUTH; WHAT BROODING, UNREQUIETED REVENGE-PASSION, NOURISHED BY HUMILIATING DEFEAT IN A FOREDOOMED WAR OF REBELLION SO MANY YEARS AGO, MIGHT YET SET OFF SOME SINISTER SYNAPSE IN THAT PUDGY FINGER POISED OVER THE RED BUTTON IN THE WHITE HOUSE, THE FINGER OF... JIMMY OTTER, FORMER CITIZEN OF TERMINUS, GEORGIA, AND LONGTIME FRIEND OF OUR HERO, E.Z. WOLF???
E.Z. PLAYS HOST TO THE PRESIDENT IN AN ILL-CONCEIVED P.R. STUNT, NEXT.

From Amsterdam and the Dutch Cartoonists, TANTE LENY 23, a beautiful comic. $3pp from 269 Hulshorststraat, Den Haag, Netherlands. Work by Marc Sweets, Peter Pontiac Harry Buckinx, Evart Geradts, Joost Swarte & a few new people.* San Diego Con Report in my next issue. 7-17-77

A FEW MINUTES LATER IN THE PRIVACY OF E.Z.'S HUMBLE ABODE.
UH..E.Z.?..YOU WEREN'T SERIOUS ABOUT ME SLEEPIN' ON TH' FLOOR WERE YOU??..
WELL TO TELL THE TRUTH JIMMY...WE REALLY DON'T HAVE ANY EXTRA BEDS...

Who would ever have thought that the Big Bad Wolf from 1933 would turn out to be one of the good guys? Well, Ted Richards, for one, and his first issue of E. Z. Wolf looks and feels as good as those forties issues of Walt Disney's Comics and Stories I bought religiously as a kid. Ted's got E. Z. shaking hands with President Jimmy Otter on the cover and inside the great man gets just a wee bit humbled in his confrontation with grass roots poverty. Ted's the first cartoonist to put a president on the cover of an underground funnybook since Hydrogen Bomb & Chemical Warfare Funnies.
